

OLYMPIC RELAY
FAVORS YANKEES

Odd Event Calls Mostly for Sprinting, in Which Americans Excel.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Copies of the rules that will govern the Olympic games have just been received in New York, and it is evident that the Olympic committee made an attempt to conform to the athletic rules of every country. An event that will meet with popular approval in America, and one that was only recently added to the program, is a four-man relay race, in which the first two men run 220 yards, the third man 110 yards and the last man a half mile. For this event America should be able to get a team together that can beat the representatives of any country in the world, as it calls principally for sprinters and the Yankee athletes excel in sprinting.

The committee in charge of the Olympiad have carefully formed a definition of an amateur, so that what an amateur really is will be clearly understood in every country. The committee worked hard at this in order to prevent protests before and after the games. The definition is as follows:

"An amateur is one that has never competed for a money prize or monetary consideration, or for any declared wager of stake bet; who has never engaged in, assisted in or taught any athletic exercise as a means of pecuniary gain, and who has never taken part in any competition with any one who is not an amateur." This is practically the same definition of an amateur as in vogue in this country.

What is probably the greatest concession by the English committee is the fact that the races are to be run with the left arm to the rail instead of the right arm, which is usually the case in Great Britain. The Yankee athletes showed fairly well that they were not entirely at home running with the right hand to the rail at the 1906 Olympic meet in Athens.

SPORTING NOTES.

The calendar man and the weather man are in league this year, against the baseball man. The latter is now fretting their souls about schedules. July 4th and Decoration Day both fall on Saturday, thereby making a big day in gain for the clubs that secure these dates.

When Jockey Mountain was ruled off the turf recently, he answered the condolences of his friends by winning a $10,000 roll of money. "And I have some in the bank, too," said Mountain, full of pity for his bad situation.

The Youngstown baseball team holds the world's record for stealing bases. During the season of 1907 the Youngstown piffers turly attached 348 bags. Compare with Detroit's mark of 266 stolen bases for the same season.

A Western newspaper prints all reports of the Thaw trial on the sporting page.

A Cambridge University professor suggests that the law be enacted to forbid a man from playing golf before he is thirty-five years old, because until that age he is capable of standing the strain of a golfing season.

After Shrub, the English distance runner, who has just sailed for England, says that he is going to start a correspondence course for distance runners. He will advise his pupils how to win races by mail.

Cy Young is wearing a continual scowl. He was born on February 23rd and will have chance to celebrate his birthday this year.

Detroit was so tickled over winning the pennant last year that the city has gone baseball-mad. Indoor baseball is now the rage, and a league of seven teams has been formed to play it.

An English racing expert points out that American racing stakes are now so valuable that it is more profitable for American owners to enter horses in the United States than in foreign countries.

James E. Sullivan, the president of the Amateur Athletic Union, is popularly known among Western athletes as the "A. A. U. Poo-Bah."

RICHLY BRED COLT

August Belmont Has a Foal by Rock-sand, the $125,000 Stallion.

NEW YORK, January 26.—Word has been received in New York of the birth of the first colt in America by Rock-sand, the $125,000 stallion imported by August Belmont. The foal was born at Belmont's nursery at Rock-sand, Kentucky, its dam being the Rayon d'Or mare Fatch.

As the first son of the famous winner of the 2,000 guinea race of the birth of the St. Leger in England in 1903, the foal would be viewed with interest, but to this it adds a strain of blood that has been traced to the origin of the turf. Fatch being of the origin tracing in direct female line, as Colin, the champion of the turf in the summer and winner of $150,000 in purses.

The Rock-sand-Fatch colt is a chestnut and was born January 20th.

EAST END TEAM WINS.

Defeat West Enders in Goose-kins by 53 Points.

On Saturday night the Idlewood Alters the East End team defeated the West End team at goose-kins by 53 points.

The following is the score:

| Players. | East End. | West End. | 3. Total. |
|--------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| F. Verlander..... | 10 | 8 | 18 |
| M. W. Woolard..... | 10 | 8 | 18 |
| B. Connors..... | 104 | 108 | 212 |
| A. Connors..... | 70 | 75 | 145 |
| W. Connors..... | 67 | 73 | 140 |
| M. J. Woolard..... | 95 | 80 | 175 |
| Totals..... | 500 | 505 | 1,005 |

| Players. | East End. | West End. | 3. Total. |
|-------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| R. C. Frost..... | 91 | 80 | 171 |
| W. H. Lowery..... | 81 | 80 | 161 |
| W. D. Brown..... | 78 | 82 | 160 |
| W. Baur..... | 75 | 72 | 147 |
| C. French..... | 75 | 72 | 147 |
| T. Ellyson..... | 53 | 94 | 147 |
| Totals..... | 450 | 486 | 936 |

VIRGINIA ALUMNI TEAM PROFESSIONAL COACHES

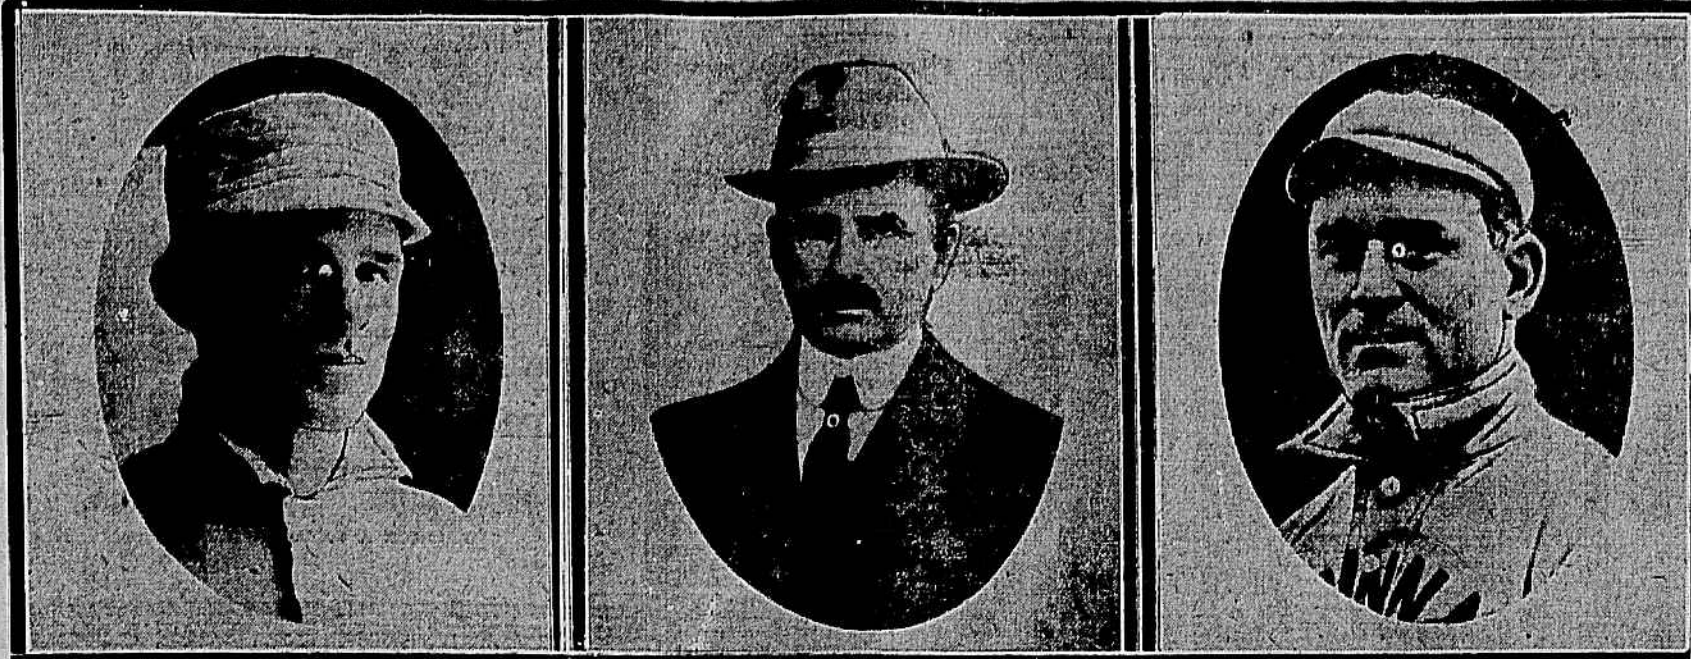

The alumni of the University of Virginia are agitating the question of doing away with the present system of appointing coaches and securing the services of a professional coach for next fall's eleven.

The undergraduate body, on the other hand, is strongly opposed to the move on the ground that they should go into sport for sports sake and not for the purpose of winning games, and that with the present system of coaching the eleven, a Virginia team from beginning to end.

January 27th in the Annals of Sport.

- 1876—At New York—William Sexton defeated George F. Slosson, three-balls billiards, $1,000; 600 to 400.
- 1883—At Fall River, Mass.—George La Blanche, the "Marina," knocked out Mike Barzani in heavy weight in the second round.
- 1892—At Newburgh, N. Y.—In trial against time, Joseph F. Donoghue skated 140 yards in thirty-five seconds, a "strange" away with wind.
- 1892—At Philadelphia—William defeated "Paddy" Palmer in two rounds.
- 1894—At Philadelphia—Tommy Ryan and Philadelphia Jack O'Brien fought a six-round draw.
- 1896—At Cincinnati—Lo Roy broke the indoor world's record for ice skating, making 100 laps in 10 minutes.
- 1897—At Philadelphia—Bill Bako won the decision over Dick Fitzpatrick in ten rounds.

THREE CRACK MANAGERS OF NATIONAL LEAGUE TEAMS

JOHN J. MCGRAW,
Manager of New York.WILLIAM J. MURRAY,
Manager of the Phillies.JOE KELLEY,
Manager of Boston.

Sporting Letters.

The sporting editor of The Times-Dispatch will gladly answer in these columns any question regarding sporting matters. Communications on sporting subjects will also be printed, and comments will be made. Address: Sporting Editor, Times-Dispatch.

Baseball.

Sporting Editor of The Times-Dispatch: Sir—What team in the American League made the best batting record last year? A. D.

Detroit made the best, .265, with Philadelphia second, .256.

Vanderbilt.

Sporting Editor of The Times-Dispatch: Sir—Was Vanderbilt University defeated in football last season? C. C. P.

Yes; by Michigan, 8 to 0. Vanderbilt tied the Navy 6 to 6 and won all her other games.

Big Gate Receipts.

Sporting Editor of The Times-Dispatch: Sir—At what light were the gate receipts the largest in America? B.

At Goldfield, Nevada, on September 2, 1906, when Gans whipped Nelson. The gate receipts were $49,715.

Record Jumps.

Sporting Editor of The Times-Dispatch: Sir—What are the best standing and running high jumps?

The standing high jump record is 5 feet 5 1/4 inches, made by Ray C. Ewry, on September 7, 1901. The running high jump is 6 feet 3 inches, made by M. J. Sweeney, September 21, 1897.

S. H. S. Whits Games.

Although the prospects for a fast baseball team at Scottsburg High School are not altogether as good as they were last year, yet Captain L. S. Shrub, who has been coaching the team, is sure to put a good team on the diamond when spring weather opens up. There are, however, few games scheduled, and the manager of the team will be glad to consider challenges from other teams, especially those representing high schools and academies. Address all communications to C. A. McKinney, manager, Scottsburg, Va.

Rowe Leaves Michigan.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., January 26.—There is sad news in the Wolverine camp to-night, and it is no wolf story. Captain Floyd Rowe, the holder of the two-mile championship, which he won in the Michigan relay race, has left the university hospital and has gone to his home in Michigan. It is believed that he is afflicted with pulmonary as well as throat trouble and some rumors have been spread that he will not be able to play. He has been under the lungs were affected or not. Dr. Smithies, Dr. Waldorf said to-night that he had not determined definitely whether the lungs were affected or not. Dr. Smithies could not be located. If Rowe is out of athletics for good it will cut a big hole in Michigan's line, as it will knock Michigan out of first place in the Eastern intercollegiate for the long run and it will break up the four-mile relay team for the Pennsylvania invitation meet.

MANY BIG TEAMS TO PLAY IN LYNCHBURG. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, VA., January 26.—The New York Americans, Boston Nationals and Buffalo and Toronto Eastern Leagues have been booked to play the local Virginia League team in the post-exhibition season on the local grounds in April. Both of the Eastern Leagues will have dual meetings with the Princeton and Harvard freshmen, the latter here on May 16th and the former at Princeton on May 23d.

Grin at Hot Springs. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, VA., January 26.—Mr. John J. Grim, owner of the Lynchburg Virginia League team, at Hot Springs, Ark., where he will recuperate for several weeks before coming home to prepare for the opening of the ball season in April. Mr. Grim will hardly get to Lynchburg much before March. His team will report during the last week in that month.

Cought Three Foxes. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HEATHSVILLE, VA., January 26.—The Lottsburg foxhunters, in numbers, with a large number of hounds, had a most successful hunt in Woodcock last week, catching three foxes in a very few hours. Foxes are more numerous, and this sport more indulged in now than for years past.

Yule Track Team Schedule. NEW HAVEN, JANUARY 26.—An urgent appeal for more men to come out for the track team has been made at Yale. The schedule provides for the following: competition at Easton, N. H., Jan. 27; New York, Jan. 28; Boston Athletic Association meet at Boston, February 1st; Columbia relay carnival at New York, February 15th; Trenton Young Men's Christian Association tournament at Trenton, February 22nd.

EXPERTS TO MEET AT BILLIARD MATCH

NEW YORK, January 26.—George Sutton and Ora C. Morningstar meet to-morrow night at the Lenox Lyceum, Fifty-fifth Street and Madison Avenue, for the world's championship at 152 ballgame billiards, 500 points, in addition to the emblem now held by Sutton there is a side bet of $500, which is provided in the conditions governing the trophy competition. The players divide the net gate receipts. Edward McLaughlin will probably be the referee.

Willie Hoppe will be at the game to challenge the winner. He has deposited his forfeit of $250 and expects an early acceptance. Jacob Schaefer, who holds the 141 emblem, will probably accept Hoppe's challenge for that style of the game and name a date and place to play within a short time.

The history of the world's championship at 152 balliards is not so long as that at the 141 game. The latter was first played in the 18th century at Addison Square Garden in 1837, when Slosson defeated Schaefer, 100 to 0. In 1891, Slosson defeated Schaefer, 100 to 0. In 1904, Sutton won the championship at 152, while Slosson won the 141 game.

Ora Morningstar belongs to the class of young masters. He made his public debut in the second world's championship at 152 in this city in 1901 and finished next to last. Like Sutton and many other experts, he lived for a time in Paris and played in the French academies. In the "young masters" championship in Paris, 1904, won by Hoppe, he finished fourth.

Professional billiard matches and tournaments since July 25, 1873, or nearly thirty-five years. Schaefer and Slosson first met on October 5, 1874, in Indianapolis for $200 a side. Slosson won by a score of 500 to 321. Since then these two billiardists have met often in public than any other pair. Schaefer's first match in the East was played in Ford's Opera House in Washington on April 26, 1876, with Lewis Shaw for $2,500 a side.

Schaefer was beaten by 600 to 571. His first appearance in a tournament was in Tammany Hall, this city, November 20 to 28, 1878, and he made a poor showing, finishing last in a field of seven. He secured his first record victory in Cooper Institute in 1879, when he defeated Slosson, Daly and other masters for the world's championship. His home is in Chicago, where he has a large academy.

The career of Willie Hoppe has been the briefest and most brilliant of these four experts. He is now about twenty years old, but started to play billiards when a mere child. He received instruction from Jacob Schaefer and soon developed into a phenomenon. He plays without effort and as accurately as a machine. When he first began to play he won all the games he came in all over the table to reach the shots.

George Sutton has the world's record average of 100 to 152, while Hoppe holds the high run record at 301.

Billiard experts seem to have lost speed at the 151 game. In Philadelphia on Thursday night, in the Schaefer-Cutler match, the former's high run was 55 and his average 7.46-65. This compares poorly with his record in 1898, when he played 100 a game and had a high run of 139 and an average of 40.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

George Sutton made his first public appearance in 1893 at Toronto, Canada, when he won the championship of Canada at 142 ballgame. His first appearance at tournament play was in Chicago in January, 1895, when he competed in a "shortstop" contest. He won only one game and lost four. Soon after this, however, he began to play with the masters. For several years he lived and played in Paris, winning many games in the academies there. He won the 151 championship from Schaefer by default in 1900, but lost it to Vignaux by 500 to 337 in Paris in 1904. Sutton is a remarkably fast player, making his shots with great rapidity and without apparent effort or care.

Ora Morningstar belongs to the class of young masters. He made his public debut in the second world's championship at 152 in this city in 1901 and finished next to last. Like Sutton and many other experts, he lived for a time in Paris and played in the French academies. In the "young masters" championship in Paris, 1904, won by Hoppe, he finished fourth.

Professional billiard matches and tournaments since July 25, 1873, or nearly thirty-five years. Schaefer and Slosson first met on October 5, 1874, in Indianapolis for $200 a side. Slosson won by a score of 500 to 321. Since then these two billiardists have met often in public than any other pair. Schaefer's first match in the East was played in Ford's Opera House in Washington on April 26, 1876, with Lewis Shaw for $2,500 a side.

Schaefer was beaten by 600 to 571. His first appearance in a tournament was in Tammany Hall, this city, November 20 to 28, 1878, and he made a poor showing, finishing last in a field of seven. He secured his first record victory in Cooper Institute in 1879, when he defeated Slosson, Daly and other masters for the world's championship. His home is in Chicago, where he has a large academy.

The career of Willie Hoppe has been the briefest and most brilliant of these four experts. He is now about twenty years old, but started to play billiards when a mere child. He received instruction from Jacob Schaefer and soon developed into a phenomenon. He plays without effort and as accurately as a machine. When he first began to play he won all the games he came in all over the table to reach the shots.

George Sutton has the world's record average of 100 to 152, while Hoppe holds the high run record at 301.

Billiard experts seem to have lost speed at the 151 game. In Philadelphia on Thursday night, in the Schaefer-Cutler match, the former's high run was 55 and his average 7.46-65. This compares poorly with his record in 1898, when he played 100 a game and had a high run of 139 and an average of 40.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

George Sutton made his first public appearance in 1893 at Toronto, Canada, when he won the championship of Canada at 142 ballgame. His first appearance at tournament play was in Chicago in January, 1895, when he competed in a "shortstop" contest. He won only one game and lost four. Soon after this, however, he began to play with the masters. For several years he lived and played in Paris, winning many games in the academies there. He won the 151 championship from Schaefer by default in 1900, but lost it to Vignaux by 500 to 337 in Paris in 1904. Sutton is a remarkably fast player, making his shots with great rapidity and without apparent effort or care.

Ora Morningstar belongs to the class of young masters. He made his public debut in the second world's championship at 152 in this city in 1901 and finished next to last. Like Sutton and many other experts, he lived for a time in Paris and played in the French academies. In the "young masters" championship in Paris, 1904, won by Hoppe, he finished fourth.

Professional billiard matches and tournaments since July 25, 1873, or nearly thirty-five years. Schaefer and Slosson first met on October 5, 1874, in Indianapolis for $200 a side. Slosson won by a score of 500 to 321. Since then these two billiardists have met often in public than any other pair. Schaefer's first match in the East was played in Ford's Opera House in Washington on April 26, 1876, with Lewis Shaw for $2,500 a side.

Schaefer was beaten by 600 to 571. His first appearance in a tournament was in Tammany Hall, this city, November 20 to 28, 1878, and he made a poor showing, finishing last in a field of seven. He secured his first record victory in Cooper Institute in 1879, when he defeated Slosson, Daly and other masters for the world's championship. His home is in Chicago, where he has a large academy.

The career of Willie Hoppe has been the briefest and most brilliant of these four experts. He is now about twenty years old, but started to play billiards when a mere child. He received instruction from Jacob Schaefer and soon developed into a phenomenon. He plays without effort and as accurately as a machine. When he first began to play he won all the games he came in all over the table to reach the shots.

George Sutton has the world's record average of 100 to 152, while Hoppe holds the high run record at 301.

Billiard experts seem to have lost speed at the 151 game. In Philadelphia on Thursday night, in the Schaefer-Cutler match, the former's high run was 55 and his average 7.46-65. This compares poorly with his record in 1898, when he played 100 a game and had a high run of 139 and an average of 40.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.

Richmond College, with White, Briscoe, McGregor and Lowman carrying its colors, won handsily in a one-mile three-cornered relay from University of Maryland and Maryland Agricultural College.

Johns Hopkins ran away from George Washington in the two-mile relay, the feature and final event of the night. The Hopkins team took the lead at the start and finished well in the van of the local quartet.

L. Martin, of the University of Virginia, won both the pole vault and the running high jump. In the pole vault he cleared the bar at 16 feet 9 inches, and he did 5 feet 8 1/4 inches in addition to his two-inch handicap, in the high jump.